THE GREAT STORM.

REPORTS FROM NORFOLK TO THE DELAWARE CAPES.

The Most Furious Storm for Years---Buildings Leveled and Unroofed---Damage to Shipping.

NORFOLK, August 19.—This vicinity has been visited by the severest rain storm and tornado ever experienced. It moved from southwest to northwestward commencing at 2:30 a. m., and reaching its utmost intensity at about 11 a. m.; many buildings were unroofed and flooded. Trees were uprooted, shipping damaged and many vessels dragging ashore. The Boston Steamship Company's warehouses have been seriously damaged by the force of the wind. Wharves all along the river front has been submerged and many of the warehouses were flooded. The tide was higher than it was ever before known. The vicinity of Water street was only accessible by means of boats, the sight being one unexampled event to the oldest inhabitant. The handsome spire of Fremont street Baptist Church was blown down, fortunately without damage to the surrounding property. The slating of Christ Episcopal Church was torn off and the cornice and steeple ornaments of St. Mary's Catholic Church suffered severely, while the beautiful grounds of old St. Pauls are badly wrecked and old trees torn and switched so as to be barely recognizable. Great anxiety prevailed during its prevalence and Mayor Tucker ordered out the entire police force and fire department. Loss is variously estimated from $200,000 to $300,000.

The signal corps station at Lewes, Delaware, reports a two-masted schooner, before reported, ashore at Rehoboth, named Ellis Meridgway, Captain Cresse, of Bridgeton, New Jersey, with a cargo of bricks, lays well upon the beach. The crew was saved.

Cape May reports the schooner Mary Ann, of Philadelphia, lying in a dangerous position in front of the station. Her crew deserted her in a boat at 6 p. m. yesterday. The boat capsized and the sea washed them ashore in an exhausted condition. The Captain refused to leave the vessel. The lifesaving crew of No. 40 ran a line out to her and remained on duty all night. The schooner is all right this morning and the sea high. The maximum velocity of the wind was sixty-four miles an hour from the north. The total rain fall was eight inches and forty-six hundredths of an inch.

Atlantic City reports the velocity of the wind at sixty miles an hour from the north-east.

At 4 P. M. the schooner Flora Curtis, of Perth Amboy, New Jersey, was blown ashore. The life saving crew hauled the life boat to a point opposite the wreck, but could not get to the schooner on account of the surf running so high that the crew remained in the rigging until 3 a. m., when rescued by the life saving crew. The amount of rain fall nearly ten inches. All yachts damaged, four sunk and carried to sea. At a later hour Atlantic City reports schooner before reported ashore was bound from Portapotauk, Va., with pine wood for New York. The crew consisted of Captain A. Pierce, of Keyport, Maine, and four men. The schooner will be stripped at once for fear she will be a total loss.

NEW YORK, August 19.—The storm yesterday along the Middle Atlantic and New England coast was the severest that has been experienced in many years. No great loss of life occurred, however, but reports of disasters to shipping come in from all the seaboard States. At Newport, twenty or thirty sail boats were sunk or damaged. A great many small boats were sunk at their wharves. Pilot boat No. 7, George Clark, Jr., is ashore at Gloucester, Mass. The schooner Tracy is ashore and full of water at Cape May. A large three-masted schooner was run into during the storm by an ocean steamer off New Castle, Del., and sunk with all on board, going down in four minutes; her name could not be ascertained. The schooner Hannah Willetts is ashore near Hyannis, Mass., together with the sloop Little B. The Portuguese schooner Adelaide is ashore on Brent Rock, at Gooseberry Island, near Newport. At Portland, Maine, several yachts and schooners were driven ashore and sunk. Other towns along the coast report a long list of disasters to local shipping and private property.

WASHINGTON, August 19.—The signal corps station at Norfolk reports to the chief signal officer as follows: The American brig Northern Star lies anchored off Cape Henry, since 3 o'clock p. m. yesterday, with her foremast gone and apparently leaking.

The British barque North Carolina, from Smithville, N. C., for Baltimore, ran ashore half a mile north of life saving station No. 4, district of North Carolina, at 9:45 a. m. yesterday. Her captain and crew, numbering seventeen, landed safely. The barque is in ballast and lies near high water mark on shore in a good position. The wreckers at Norfolk have been notified.

PETERSBURG, August 19.—The damage to growing crops in the adjacent counties by the storm of yesterday which was severest experienced in this section for years is expected to be very great. In Surry county alone the damage to corn is estimated at 50 per cent. Barns and out buildings were also considerably damaged.

FROM THE FEVER DISTRICT.

I wish the State Board to pass formally a rule or regulation positively forbidding all parties from entering Memphis without permission of the State Board, first had and obtained through representatives in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, August 19.—Eleven cases were reported this morning, three of whom are colored. Four deaths have occurred since last night, Con. Sheehan, Pat Cavanough, James Dolan and Anne Weiss. The authorities and board of health officials are in consultation arranging plans to complete the isolation of the infected district. Mayor W. W. Gray continues to grow worse. His condition is extremely critical. Hon. John Johnson, superintendent of quarantine, acting under the direction of J. D. Plunkett, president State Board of Health will send an inspecting officer to White Haven, Tenn., to add in effecting the absolute isolation of the Geoff family who are sick with fever at that point. If necessary the immediate neighborhood will be depopulated. The greatest energy will be used.

BEAUFORT'S BAD BLOW.

WOMEN FLEEING FROM THE HOTEL IN NIGHT CLOTHING.

Particulars of the Destruction of the Atlantic and Ocean View Hotels ---The Work of an Angry Sea.

Owing to the large number of Raleigh people at Beaufort taking advantage of the cool breezes at that place during the extreme hot weather, the excitement in our streets on learning the tale of destruction was intense. The telegrams from Morehead City were unsatisfactory, the communications between the two places having been interrupted, and beyond a general statement that the two principal hotels and some other buildings were destroyed no further information could be obtained. And even at this hour it is not an easy task to gain satisfactory information of the loss or to give a vivid description of the thrilling scenes that occurred at the destruction, of the Atlantic Hotel. Yesterday a NEWS reporter was dispatched to Beaufort, but owing to the lateness of the hour when he reached that place such matter as he has furnished is of necessity meager.

THE ATLANTIC HOTEL.

The storm, as stated in yesterday's NEWS, commenced Sunday night between 12 and 1 o'clock, and steadily increased until daylight, but it was not until about 5 o'clock that real danger was apprehended. Mr. Perry, the landlord, then deemed it advisable to arouse the guests and have them ready for removal. The employees were awakened and received the necessary orders, and in a short time the hotel presented a busy scene. Order was very well preserved, although of necessity there was more or less confusion. The guests were not more than half dressed, many of the women rushing into the halls in their night clothing. The heavy swells were rolling in with frightful rapidity, surging over the floors, and it was painfully evident that

THE STRUCTURE WAS DOOMED.

The people were passed to the street over which the waves were breaking, and this was a work of no little magnitude as a number were unable to help themselves. The last person had barely left the building when an immense wave came tearing in, lifting the floors and demolishing the bar-room, and this was quickly followed by another and another; the handsome edifice seemed to rise and then settle, and on the next surge it raised once more and then it went to pieces as by magic and the angry waters were covered with the wreckage. The white capped billows tossed about in indescribable confusion portions of the verandah, furniture, baggage and broken lumber. At 6:30 o'clock there was nothing left to mark the spot where the handsome edifice had stood an hour before.

LIKE A CHILD'S CARD HOUSE

There was a strong flood tide running and the heavy gale kept piling the water up till Front street as far as the Ocean View Hotel was a mass of seething foam, and the buildings standing between the two hotels were quickly wrecked. Then the handsome house known as attracted attention. The guests at this house had received ample warning and consequently had time to prepare themselves, and as the water swept over the shaded ground in front immediate evacuation was decided on, and none too soon, as the waves shortly surged over the verandah, dashing through the doors and windows and making havoc throughout the house. The peculiar shape of the building, an open L toward the sea, utterly precluded any chance for the heavy waves running by the building. The house is ruined, and will have to be rebuilt. The roof was ripped off by the wind while the water was doing its work below.

OTHER DAMAGES.

Nearly every building along the water was washed away, two or three shattered houses lying on the sand being all that were left.

The yachts were nearly all destroyed and the heavier craft were blown on shore.

The boats plying between Beaufort and Morehead City were run up into creeks the evening before and thus escaped wreck. One large schooner, however, was landed in Mrs. Davis' garden, where it still lies.

SCENES AND INCIDENTS.

When the hotel guests were being removed the staunch men there were right on hand for any emergency. The sick and crippled were carefully attended to, and conveyed to a place of safety. The citizens threw open their homes to the houseless ones. Mrs. Davis opened her hotel to all that could get in. Clothing was provided for the half-naked refugees, and with all sorts and sizes of apparel the wearers presented a truly comical sight.

Among those of Raleigh who made themselves eminently serviceable in the danger were Tom McCoy who carried off Colonel J. McL. Turner; Mayor B. C. Manly, Colonel Atkinson and several others. G. T. Stronach and his family barely escaped.

The tide has thrown many trunks ashore, but the contents are ruined. All of the guests of the Atlantic have lost everything they had with them.

But two lives were lost as far as known, John Hughes, son of Colonel Hughes, of New Berne. He was one of the last to leave the building, and it was thought for some time that he had made his escape, but so far nothing has been heard of him. A late dispatch to the NEWS states that an active search had been kept up along the beach, but the effort had not met with success. A large number from New Berne who were in hope of recovering the body were sorely disappointed. The other missing man is W. Henry Congleton, whose residence is not given. Mr. Hughes is a young man of about nineteen years of age.

When it was discovered that Mr. Hughes was lost the opinion became prevalent that he was buried in the wreck of the ten-pin alley, and yesterday the debris was removed but the search was unsuccessful.

At the commencement of the exodus it was found that the railing of the walk had been carried away, when Mr. Porter run his shark lines along, thus forming a hand rope. Without this aid some would have undoubtedly been lost.

ARRIVAL OF THE FORLORN ONES.

Last night at 11 o'clock a large number of citizens assembled to welcome the Beaufort excursionists back to the city. The train arrived at the usual hour, and the passengers presented an amusing spectable. Nearly all of their baggage had been lost. They were dressed in all kinds of costumes and fashions, which made them appear much more ludicrous. Mr. J. C. Dorrance was rigged in a full suit of sailor's clothes and a wide brim straw hat, the balance in ridiculous outfits. The following are the names of most of those who returned: Mr. Phillip Wiley, Miss Flemming, Governor Jarvis and lady, Mrs. Argo, Charles W. Holden, Mr. McCary, Mr. Norcom, Hon. J. J. Davis, Colonel P. F. Faison, Mr. J. M. Dorrance and Dr. G. W. Blacknall. On arriving at the Yarboro, Colonel I. J. Young entertained a large crowd till a late hour describing the scene and telling of hair-breadth escapes. The Colonel declares that he will never see any more water except branches, as long as he lives.

THE LATEST.

It is stated that the signal officer sent word to Mr. Perry to look out for a severe storm, but although it was not apprehended that such a scene of damage would ensue it was deemed advisable to keep a watch, which was accordingly done. Many packed their trunks early, but failed to lock them, and when they floated ashore they were completely emptied. Those that were locked remained intact although the clothing was ruined by contact with the salt water.

The wind is stated to have been terrific—so strong that it swept many of the escaping people right along and thus really aiding them. The last to leave the Atlantic were two gentlemen from New Berne who failed to appreciate the danger until the water rolled through the second story, when they leaped from the third story window into the waves and were swept high and dry ashore. In almost the next minute the building melted away, and they had made their jump just in time to avoid being caught in the wreck.

The water seemed to leap right out of the Sound in great sheets, fairly deluging all within reach and driving them backward with great force.

Great credit is given Mr. Thomas McCoy for saving Colonel Turner. They were standing by the ten-pin alley, and made their escape in the nick of time.

One gentleman has taken his "solemn davy" that he has made his last excursion to the seashore; that hereafter any little branch will furnish ample water facilities for him.

The people of Beaufort feel disheartened at the disaster that has overtaken them. One old lady states that in her recollection of fifty-nine years such a storm has never occurred. The wind came due east, right across Core Sound. Houses were unroofed and chimneys leveled on the high grounds. Many fences were thrown down and trees laid prostrate.

CROSSING TO MOREHEAD.

Monday afternoon the attempt was made to cross from Beaufort to Morehead, but the sea ran so high, and with a vivid sense of the danger they had just escaped, but few dared to run the risk, and when the craft put out she was watched with anxious eyes. The run was a long one, but was made in safety. The wharf having been washed away at Morehead it was necessary yesterday to land the passengers on the backs of colored porters, and they performed their work right manfully.

AT WILMINGTON.

From the Wilmington papers we gather the following particulars. The Star states that a terrific storm burst upon that city and vicinity Monday morning, commencing about 12:30 o'clock a. m., and raging with fearful violence until nearly 6 o'clock, a. m. The height of the gale is said to have been about 3:30 o'clock. It commenced from the southwest, soon veered to the northeast, and next shifted to the northwest, when the storm commenced in earnest. The damage in the city was mostly confined to the prostration of fences, the uprooting of trees, and the scattering of boughs and limbs in every direction. Some of the streets, as on Fifth, between Princess and Chestnut, were rendered almost impassable, being literally filled with uprooted trees, limbs, etc. Several houses and sheds were blown down and a large number unroofed. Several vessels are ashore, but no lives lost.

The rock dam at New Inlet sustained no actual damage. The stone which lay at the top of the cone was knocked off for a distance of about one-fourth of the whole length of the dam, rolling down the sloping sides toward the base, taking their place where stone is needed and would have to be placed in the progress of the work. No breach was made at any point, the stone being visible at low water the entire length. When the dam is completed the face of the sea-side slope and the top of the work will be of heavy granite that will withstand any storm. The tests which this work has experienced during its progress fully establish confidence in its successfully standing the furies of the ocean when completed. The swash between New Inlet and Bald Head was not affected by the storm. Its natural closing continues. The beach near to the same is gaining steadily and will soon close it, as many places are now dry at low tide.

The Review states that the signal wires are down on the coast and we can learn nothing from Onslow county. At Rocky Point the storm was very severe; an immense amount of rain fell and the damages to the crops in that locality are very severe. The wires are also down on the C. C. R. W., between this city and northwest, but we learn from a gentleman from Laurinburg, who came in this morning, that the damage was confined to fences, outhouses and crops. The velocity of the wind was seventy two miles an hour.

AT NEW BERNE.

The reports furnished by the Nut Shell and Democrat are similar. The storm at that place commenced about 2 a. m. in earnest, and reached the limit of its fury at between 5 and 6 o'clock. The streets were littered and encumbered with branches, limbs and fallen trees. East and South Front, Middle and Craven, Hancock and Metcalf, Broad and Pollock, and in fact all the streets in the city were blockaded with the trunks of fallen trees; telegraph poles and wires were thrown down, houses were twisted, and in some instances moved from their foundations. About two hundred and fifty shade trees were prostrated. The tide at one time came rushing in with race horse speed; it soon flooded our wharves, when the wind suddenly veering to the west, it with equal speed receded; in its withdrawal it swept away large quantities of fuel that was corded up in the different wood-yards on and near our wharves, besides quantities of saw mill logs, and also logs intended for use at the plate factory. All this will be nearly a total loss. No estimate of the damage has been formed.

Personal.

Macon (Ga.) Telegraph and Messenger.

We had the pleasure of meeting Rev. Dr. Skinner on the street yesterday. He has been making a flying visit to Macon for the purpose of closing up his business concerns and took his final departure last night. The Doctor has been called, by an unanimous vote to his old church at Raleigh, N. C., whose pulpit he had formerly filled for more than fourteen years, and of which he may be said to have been almost the founder. When he met the congregation, after so many long years of separation, the scene was most affecting. Hardly a dry eye was to be seen in the church, and he was welcomed with a warmth which spoke volumes for the faithful ministrations of their former bishop. The Doctor is an able, frank and outspoken servant of the living God, and we wish him much happiness and success among the people who know and love him so well.

RARE POSTAGE STAMPS.

THE WHIM OF A WEALTHY AMERICAN GENTLEMAN.

An Unique Auction Sale---Prices Paid for the Specimens in the Rice Collection.

New York Times, 13th.

A rare unique sale—that of the very full and extensive collection of stamps known to amateurs as the Rice collection—which has been in progress at the sales-rooms of Messrs. George A. Leavill & Co., Clinton Hall, for the last two evenings, will furnish the average reader with a new idea of values, relative and absolute, in this curious department of artistic activity. The sale was attended only by a small audience of collectors. Thirty years ago or more, before stamp collecting had become a profession with some and an elegant pastime with others, a wealthy American gentleman decided to fill an album with postage stamps. At that date many specimens which have since become unattainable, could be obtained by the use of a little money and some patience, and the result is a collection which has been the envy of stamp-collectors for the last ten years. Among Mr. Rice's treasures were, indeed, many that could not be duplicated, such as the four-cent British Guiana of 1856, which brought $21.50. It is a beautiful, deep-bordered carmine stamp with a vessel under full sail. A small part of the upper corner is missing, and the right lower corner has been mended, but all collectors give it precedence as one of

THE RAREST AUTHENTIC

Government postals, and probably the only specimen of the issue in this country. Another British Guiana, known as the yellow provisional, with a border of crossed oars, brought at $4.25. Another rarity, over which there was a skirmish, was the New foundland one shilling orange stamp, of 1857, which is difficult to find, and which brought $13.50; the vermillion six-penny of the same year selling for $4.75 only, because a shade less rare than its fellow. The dark violet one shilling stamp of New Brunswick, 1851, of which the collection contained one specimen only, went at $6.75, and the light violet of the same year at 25 cents less. The Nova-Scotia 1-shilling of 1857, a beautiful violet of ample margins, raised a fine breeze of competition, but stopped at $10. The dark violet of the same year paused at $6.50, and the very rare half peso Peruvian orange at $5.25.

Some of the United States series, furnishing materials for the history of the postal service or giving clues to other historical questions, brought even higher prices, of which but a small number were issued, went up to $32.50, and paused at that figure. It is a very plain five cent stamp, without design in figures. A five-cent New Haven stamp brought $2; a five-cent Providence, $2.70; a five-cent St. Louis, $19, and two specimens of the ten-cent St. Louis, respectively, $16 and $18. Then came the old carrier's stamp with the red horsemen, two specimens of which were sold at $3 and $2.38. An exceedingingly rare red and white, with a head of Washington, will hereafter recall the days of Whittelsey's Express to its fortunate possessor at a price of $12. Another odd little green bit of paper was the stamp of the Glenhaven Daily Mail, now forgotten. It brought $9, while a fine relic of the times of Swart's Rough and Ready Express was deemed desirable at $11.

THE OLD BRATTLEBORO STAMP,

In the large series of the Confederate States were three varieties of the

which have a curious but disputed history. They bear a fine portrait of Jackson, which Mr. George H. Carey claims to have seen drawn, while Mr. H. St. George Offut denies its authenticity. They are printed in black. The Confederate series raged from $3 to $5, not belonging to a period sufficient remote to render fancy prices obtainable. Of the foreign articles that were offered last night, a few brought high prices—a Bergedorf, of 1861, black on violet, and a rare Russian green of 1856 starting the scale at $3.25 and $3.10. The British envelop of 1840, designed by Mulready, the celebrated painter, which marks the beginning of prepaid two-penny postage, brought $3.85. The next rarity was an 1860 stamp, bearing the arms of the city of Naples, which rose to $11, and the next the Garibaldi alteration of the former, executed by erasing the arms of the city and substituting the blue cross of Savoy. Evidently the cause of the Dictator was not popular, for Garibaldi's stamp brought the scale down to $5 very abruptly. A rare Spanish orange-red, of 1861, brought $11.50, and a rare red $7.50.

Of Swiss stamps, the collection offered a large variety of

and let it be whispered here that nine-tenths of the Swiss stamps found in our collections are counterfeit. All of them brought fair and some of them high prices, a Vaud of 1849, black and red, rising to the maximum of $5.25, and a Geneva, yellow green, 1844, making the minimum of 75 cents. The last gem offered was a three-lira Tuscan stamp of 1859, the only genuine specimen sold for years of one of the rarest of European stamps. It went at $8.25. None but rarities have been noticed in the foregoing resume. Stock prices for stock specimens ranged from 1 to 10 cents.

Digest of the Supreme Court Opinions, June and July Term, 1879.

[Reported for the News by Walter Clark Esq., Attorney at Law.]

BY SMITH, C. J.:

89. Cannon vs. Parker, from Jackson.

A judgment obtained in a magistrate's court, and docketed in the Superior Court, becomes a judgment of the latter for the purposes of a lien, but it can not be impeached, set aside or modified by proceedings in the Superior Court except upon a recordari, The effect of a sale under a junior judgment is to pass the debtor's estate, encumbered with the first lien. And where the sale is under both judgments the effect is to transfer the lien, with the same priority, to the proceeds of the sale and the Sheriff is fixed with notice of the priorities.

BY SMITH, C. J.:

90. Kilburn vs. Latham, from Craven.

Construing the acts of March 22d, 1875 and March 12th, 1877 together, the terms of all county officers except Superior Court clerks, and of clerks also in elections held in and after the year 1880, begin and expire on the first Monday in December of the years when elected. A county officer (except Superior Court clerk) elected in 1878 should have appeared before the Board of County Commissioners on the first Monday in December, to give his bond, and failing to do so after repeated indulgencies, the Commissioners, at their January meeting, properly declared a vacancy and filled it.

BY SMITH, C. J.:

91, Clarke vs. Carpenter, from Craven.

A Superior Court Clerk elected in 1878 should have appeared before the County Commissioners and given bond at their meeting on the first Monday in September. All other county officers (and hereafter clerks also) should appear and give bond before the County Commissioners at their meeting on the first Monday in December. Where there are conflicting claimants for the office the judge must act upon the prima facie evidence of right, admitting the one possessing it, leaving the other to pursue his legal remedy. Or on the expiration of a term of office, or upon an appointment to fill a vacancy, the Judge may make and enforce an order for the surrender of the records, etc., under Batt. Rev. ch. 19, sec. 14. But that summary proceeding does not apply where there are conflicting claimants to the office, one of whom has been regularly admitted and is in possession of the office.

BY SMITH, C. J.:

92. King vs. Portis, from Nash.

Rehearing and reversal of same case reported 77 N. C., 25.

A sale under a decree of foreclosure of land lying in more than one county carries the title to the land in both counties, though the mortgage had not been registered in one of the counties, as against a judgment docketed subsequent to such sale in the county where the mortgage was not registered.

BY SMITH, C. J.:

93. Haywood vs. Daves, from Wake.

Same case, 80, N. C., 338, reheard and former opinion re-affirmed. The court deprecates the frequency of petitions to rehear, and the readiness of counsel to certify to error in the opinions of the court. The court has no revisory power over a decree of a court in another State, rendered in the interpretation and administration of its own laws, in respect to property subject thereto and under its jurisdiction.

94. Egerton vs. Logan, from Rutherford.

An action against an attorney for money collected by him for his client and not paid over is barred by the lapse of three years after demand is made. The court while feeling itself bound so to decide by the letter of the law, expresses its strong disapprobation of the great wrong and fraud perpetrated by the defendant (ex-Judge George W. Logan) upon an ignorant and unlettered client.

NOTE.—The amount wrongfully withheld by Judge Logan is about $2,000.

Where an administrator is also the guardian of a ward to whom his intestate was indebted, whatever sum came into the hands of the administrator which was applicable to the debt due the ward is immediately transferred eo instanti, by operation of law, to him as guardian, without any act done by him as administrator, and the sureties on the guardian bond become responsible therefor to the exoneration of the sureties on the administration bond. Where such administrator erroneously paid over a portion of the fund applicable to the debt due the ward to the intestate's other creditors, the sureties on the guardian bond can follow such fund into the hands of those who participated in the misapplication.

Declarations of a vendor of land as to the fraudulent character of a deed executed by him, made after its execution but while he still remained in possession, are competent evidence against the vendee. Parol proof is admissible upon the identity of land described in a deed executed by a Sheriff.

97. Cannon vs. Morris, from Macon.

The act of March 2, 1867, suspending the statute of limitations from May 20, 1861 to January 1, 1870, does not apply to causes of action arising on contracts made after May 1, 1865. A bond executed before the adoption of the C. C. P. is governed by the previous statute of limitation. Hence on a bond executed March 5, 1866, the presumption of payment arises March 4, 1876. The act of March 11, 1879 renders either party incompetent as a witness to rebut the presumption of payment. The written evidence taken down in a trial before the magistrate is inadmissible to rebut the presumption, even if competent under said statute, when the witness himself can be called. Where the court promptly stopped a counsel who was attempting to abuse his privilege by alluding to the fact that the opposite counsel was related to one of the parties, the court performed its duty and there is no ground of exception to either party.

No "laborer's lien" has the effect of a lien upon land unless the notice of lien is filed in the office of the Superior Court Clerk. Where the jury finds as a fact that the common carrier has been guilty of negligence, a stipulation in the bill of lading that the damages must be assessed before the removal of the goods from the station, or that the claim for losses must be made within thirty days, is unreasonable and void.

Where a defendant who had a cause at issue and standing on docket for trial, staid at home, thirty-seven miles away in the country, expecting his two counsels to notify him when the case would be called but without any arrangement to that effect, he is not entitled to have the judgment set aside under C. C. P., 133, because one of his counsel became sick, and the defendant not being notified was not present at the trial. The defendant did not use due diligence and should have attended the court.

A WORD FROM WARREN.

A RETROSPECTIVE GLANCE AT OLD SHOCCO SPINGS.

Chasing the Antelope over the Plain ---An Exciting Deer Hunt---Not Able to Blow a Horn.

Correspondence of the News.

WARREN COUNTY, August 16.—Thinking perhaps a few lines from this good old county might be interesting to some of your many readers, I take the present opportunity to write you.

I find the crops in this neighborhood, like most other sections of our State, have suffered considerably from drought, but since the rain, have improved very much, and although the corn crop will be very short, cotton has not suffered so much, and I think there will be nearly an average yield. Tobacco is backward but the farmers seem in good spirits and few complaints are heard. I have been particularly struck with which here abound, and the beautiful country seats. The people are warm-hearted and hospitable, and ever ready to extend a welcome to their guests.

Last Sunday I drove over to Trinity, in Franklin county, to attend the district conference, and heard the word ably preached by several of our most eminent divines; but you have had an account of this already. After returning Monday a friend of mine learning that I desired once again to visit the place where many years ago (when I was young and charming) I was among the foremost in the mazes of the dance, etc., called by for me and drove me over to and what a change my eyes beheld! The hotel has been burned, with both wings, and a goodly number of the cabins, and the chimneys stand solitary and alone, mourning over the ruins and desolation at their base. Some of the cabins are still there—the ten-pin alley and the cottages on the opposite side, which were built just before the beginning of the war—the latter are in a good state of preservation. This was once the most popular resort for eastern Carolina, and if some energetic parties were to take it in hand there is no reason why it should not be so again. The spring looks natural and the water is as good as ever.

OLD SHOCCO SPRINGS,

I was so taken up with my description of Shocco that I came near omitting

OUR DEER HUNT.

Having been invited we started about 5 o'clock, a. m., with our old friends Alexander Davis and Ollie Perry and Jimmie Jones, who by the way, have the best pack of hounds we have seen since the war, and after a bracing ride of eight miles, came to our ground. The party here divided, some were placed on the "stands" and the others went in the "drive." One of the stands was assigned us, and with gun in hand, we anxiously awaited to hear old Boston open. We were not long waiting before we heard the whole pack in full cry, about a mile or so above; he turned to the right and was met by one of the party who let him have both barrels but without effect; he then wheeled and bore down on your reporter, but he knew who was on that stand and so running parallel with the road until he reached the last stand where our friend Jimmie Jones was placed, who, when he crossed the path, "put the thing on him," and down he came, falling about forty yards from where he was shot. It proved to be a tremendous buck weighing one hundred and eighty-six pounds down weight. After several more unsuccessful drives we adjourned to a neighboring house where his buckship was cut up and divided among the huntsmen. It was our first experience and was hugely enjoyed. We met at this house quite a character known down here as "gambler Jack" who was bewailing his unhappy lot at not being able to blow a fox horn. We promised on our return to send him a horn that he could blow, and intend to get our old friend Lumsden to send him one of his 4th July tin ones.

CLIPPER.

"Gaston to Ella."

Atlanta Constitution.

The other night several gentlemen of the baton invaded the den known as the Willingham building and led forth four ladies of the gay world of rather questionable color. Being taken completely by surprise the wicked nymphs had no time to prepare for the station house by leaving any little valuables not intended for the public eye behind. So when they reached the outward portal which leads to ten and costs, and were asked by the obliging Tommy to leave the contents of their pockets in his sacred keeping, one tallow-faced charmer drew forth a handsome plain gold ring which she averred had been presented to her by a Caucasian who should be nameless, there forevermore. Within the golden circlet in simple characters was the concise inscription: "Gaston to Ella." One of the reportorial geniuses with which the city abounds looked upon the ring and conceived the happy thought of telling the public of its whereabout and tender legend. His local bore fruit, for scarcely had two suns arisen and reddened to their setting when an elderly and highly respectable lady called upon the chief and claimed the ring, stating that it had been bestowed as an engagement pledge upon her daughter some years ago. So minute was the description of the ring as given by this lady before she had even seen it, and so confident did she seem that the little golden stranger was the missing emblem of her daughter's engagement which had turned out to be so sadly previous, that the chief resolved in his iron soul that she should have the trinket. He summoned the tallow belle and told her of his purpose, whereupon she flew into a rage and remarked in English rather ragged than choice that she would never surrender it without a legal struggle. The chief coolly informed her that the ring had evidently been purloined from its rightful owner—that he knew the owner and she must have it. He further stated that if the law should be invoked the exposure of the nameless Caucasian would certainly be the result, and concluded by admonishing the misguided buff that the peace of mind of the donor would surely be broken if the ring was not forthcoming. The point was irresistible, and the triumphant chief had the exquisite pleasure of presenting to the elderly lady her daughter's long lost pledge. But who is the nameless Caucasian.

THE Ladies' Memorial Association of Tallahassee, Fla., has secured a design of the monument which they propose to purchase and erect in that city in honor of the dead of Florida who died in the Confederate service. The monument, which will cost about $1,700, will be about twenty-eight feet high. The main portion will be of Italian marble and the base of granite.

THE announcement of the arrival at Castle Garden of three hundred and eighty-two emigrants, last Saturday, should suggest the necessity of the adoption of the most stringent measures for separating the worthless pauper emigrants from those that are thrifty and industrious, and sending the former back to their European homes. In no other way can we secure an exemplary body of emigrants to these shores.

THE Surgeon General of the Army states there is urgent need for revising the instructions adopted twenty-one years ago with regard to the examination of recruits. Instructions have been given to medical examiners to refuse to enlist men who cannot see well at six hundred yards distance a black center three feet in diameter on a white ground. Color blindness is not to be regarded as constituting a cause for the rejection of a recruit or a candidate for appointment to the Military Academy.

REFERRING to the Yazoo trouble the New Orleans Picayune very significantly says:

While the existing anti-Radical organization of the South refrains from abusing the power which has fallen to it by the demise of the Southern Radical party, while the Southern Democrats persevere in honest dealing and render a satisfactory account of their tenure of authority, there seems to be but little encouragement for a new array and new issue. But whenever abuse shall give rise to a new party in the South under the leadership of men of known capacity and high reputation, its growth will be rapid and its strength formidable.

COLONEL JOHN G. BROWNLOW, who was removed from the position of revenue agent in Tennessee, to make room for a man from Michigan, has been given a clerkship in the Treasury Department by Secretary Sherman. The Colonel says that his removal from the position of revenue agent was not the act of Secretary Sherman, but of one of his bureau officers, Mr. Raum, the commissioner of internal revenue. He says further that he has never been able to learn from Mr. Raum the reasons for his removal. Those who assume to know the cause say that it was a mere matter of politics in Tennessee, in which the Treasury Department may some day be interested.

THE new board of immigration of Missouri has just perfected plans for promoting immigration to that State. A general agent will be located at Cincinnati and agencies established at Liverpool and some places in Scotland and Germany. An elaborate statement of the mineral and agricultural resources of the State, its manufacturing advantages, transportation facilities, accessibility to markets, etc., will be circulated, and members of the board will personally visit several of the Eastern States and disseminate information among the people. An agency will also be established in Boston. Over twenty county immigration societies are already at work in Missouri.

SATURDAY night the country was shocked at the announcement of the death of Mrs. Sartoris, daughter of General Grant. The cablegram was a meager statement, and so bare that its authenticity was doubted, especially so when Sunday came and no confirmation of the report. Monday's papers were full of the subject but as there was nothing to work up an account of her death on they were perforce obliged to fall back on the wedding festivities that occurred five years ago. It now turns out that the report originated through mistake, the dead lady being Mrs. Edward Sartoris, better known as Adelaide Kemble, sister of Fanny Kemble, the noted actress, and Mrs. Nellie Sartoris' mother-in-law.

THE New York World claims that at the recent meeting of the New York Democratic Executive Committee at Niagara Falls, the friends of Mr. Tilden had a majority of three, and that the convention, which is worded so as to be an indorsement of Governor Robinson's admiration, is a decided triumph for that gentleman over Mr. John Kelly and his Tammany followers. On the other hand, the New York Express claims that the selection of Syracuse instead of Saratoga as the place for holding the State convention was a defeat of the Tilden-Robinson wing, and predicts the nomination of Judge Sanford E. Church for the governorship by the coming Democratic Convention, which will be held on the 10th of September.

THE Brooklyn Eagle says: "It is considered quite a good joke that Republican documents were sent out from Washington to Ohio voters, under General Ewing's frank, instead of Democratic documents, by some mistake or trickery; but the fact is that one kind will kindle fires as well as the other." With which idea we heartily agree, and think the expense incurred by the Department for transmitting tons upon tons of political matter might better be saved and allow a reduction of postal rates that would be of service to the poorer classes. Bag upon bag of political speeches are annually sent, yet they are scarcely ever read. If they are good for anything they are published by the dailies; if of little account no one wants to read them.

THE Republican papers of the North have been wont to accuse the people of the South of being defrauders of the revenue. The Cincinnati Gazette, and journals of that class, pointed with delight to the "Moonshiners" of North Carolina and West Virginia, and tried to prove by them that rebellious sentiments still flourished in the South. The report of Commissioner Raum, of the Internal Revenue Department, explodes this idea. He shows that Ohio is the worst offender in this matter, no less than 77,364 gallons of illicit whisky having been seized in that State during the past year; Massachusetts is the second, while North Carolina and Georgia, the home of the 'Moonshiners,' are at the very bottom of the list.

THE New York World claims to have discovered the typical American citizen. Of course it is a satire on the political theories advanced by the leaders of the Republican party, yet it presents a truthful picture of the claims asserted by the Messrs. Chandler, Blaine, Garfield and Conger. Says the World:

It has apparently escaped the attention of our Republican friends that while they are talking of citizenship of the United States without regard to the States, admirable illustrations of their theory are to be found at this time in every barn in the country. The tramp, who wanders from Vermont in summer down to Virginia in winter and who selects impartially as his fields of operations for arson and assassination, New Jersey or Nebraska, without regard to the local accident of State governments, who owes no narrow allegiance to any one of the thirty-eight commonwealths, but loafs and plunders all over the face of the nation—who but he is the incarnation of the Republican idea of an American citizen!

Its Wide-spread Popularity.

Elizabeth City Falcon.

The Raleigh NEWS has passed under the entire control of Mr. Geo. C. Jordan—Mr. John B. Hussey, its late editor and joint proprietor, having withdrawn from the paper. The NEWS under the editorial management of Mr. Hussey, attained a high rank in journalism—a position unsurpassed by any North Carolina newspaper. Our best wishes attend Mr. Hussey as well as Mr. Jordan the incoming editor, whose marked ability coupled with an extensive experience, promises to fully sustain the wide-spread popularity which the NEWS has enjoyed since its establishment.

The NEWS, Observer and Wilmington Star form a trio, between either two of which it would be difficult to discriminate any superiority, and which is veritably creditable to the Old North State.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Mr. Tilden rejoiceth quietly over the "noise and confusion" he is making.

"He was decorated by the censure of Tammany Hall," will be the proudest inscription on Governor Robinson's monument.

There is a portentous quiet on the face of Republican politics in New York, but no one can foresee cut of what quarter, or quarters, there may suddenly come fierce storms.

Enough has been shown up about last year's election in Cincinnati to indicate that the Ohio people do not need to go to Louisiana for frauds.

The idea that the safety of this country requires that one party shall hold the offices is what keeps things in a state of excitement so much of the time.

That Grant is the weaker candidate the Republicans of Indiana could attempt to carry that State with is the conviction of Senator McDonald, who also says of John Sherman that he is not strong even in Ohio.

"We will never, under any circumstances, vote for Governor Robinson," is to be the battle-cry of the Tammanyites. But the Anti-Tammany small boy will come along and get off the "Pinafore" gag, and the Tammanyites will be madder than ever.

Senator McDonald of Hoosierdom says that Tilden is a weak candidate, wanting in decision, and lacking the qualities necessary in any great emergency. The Senator is confident of a national victory next year for the Democracy, and equally confident that Indiana will go Democratic, even if Tilden is the candidate. Of course, the Senator would like to see Hendricks head the ticket, and he is certain that he could carry New York State for, he says, we would give such a decided Democratic victory Indiana in October that a Democratic triumph in New York would be inevitable.

Tammany's Course.

Brooklyn Eagle.

The trick of packing the galleries of conventions with Tammany retainers is so old, that even the most unsophisticated countryman is not deceived by it. Yet it is kept up. The late John Morrissey met the show of "moral strength" which the Tammany retainers present, in a very characteristic way at St. Louis. Mr. Kelly, as is well known, was opposed to Tilden's nomination. He had perhaps a thousand of his Tammany retainers at St. Louis. They were scattered about the hotels in groups demonstrating to their own satisfaction and to those who were willing to listen to them, that Tilden could never be nominated, and that if he were he could not be elected, for he would certainly fail to carry New York State. They were from New York and they knew all about it. Morrissey was standing in the corridor of the Linden House, in St. Louis, when he was approached by some members of the Virginia delegation, who were acquainted with him. "Mr. Morrissey," said one of them, "what is the actual condition of affairs in your State? Can Tilden carry it? There must be a great deal of opposition, for there are over in that crowd at least a hundred men from New York, and they all unite in saying that Tilden cannot carry your State."

"That crowd over there," said Morrissey, pointing to a number of well known Tammany politicians: "That crowd represents just one man. That man is upstairs. His name is John Kelly. If the man upstairs should send down word to these fellows to shout for Tilden, in ten minutes they would be shouting for him. Tilden can carry the State of New York. Personally, I don't like him. I think he has treated me none too well. But he will be nominated here, and he will carry the State of New York. I should not be surprised," said Morrissey, "to find that the fellows over there were back in New York before I am, trying to convince the people that they were for Tilden all all along. Tammany Hall," said John, in conclusion, "is one man, and that is all there is of it, when its moral strength comes to be weighed and not counted."

It is very doubtful if the moral weight of the one man is augmented, by the presence of a thousand lackeys at his heels.

The Course to Pursue.

Boston Herald.

The best thing the Republicans can do next year will be to nominate President Hayes for another term. In that case the Democrats should nominate Tilden, and so try the contest of 1876 over again. Mr. Hayes has behaved well in his trust. He has done as much for the South as Mr. Tilden could have done had he been inaugurated, for he has withdrawn the Federal troops and left the Southern States to govern themselves. He has also been sound on the currency, as Tilden was expected to be; and, if he has not succeeded in establishing the civil service on a basis entirely independent of politics, he has demonstrated that reform is practicable by clearing out some Augean stables, and has never—hardly ever—forgotten that fitness is the only claim to office. If Mr. Tilden could do any better, with such a Congress as Mr. Hayes has had to help or hinder him, we should be very glad to give him credit for it; but have a feeling that Mr. Tilden does not enjoy the confidence of his fellow-countrymen to the degree that he did in 1876.

FORSYTHE.

WINSTON, August 18.—We have been having the heaviest rains of the season of late and the weather is variable with a probability of more rain. Most of the streams must be full and crops are endangered.

Sheriff F. escorted to the penitentiary last Friday, Mast Brown, William Montgomery, Tilda Francis (all colored) and W. H. Godsay (white), for larceny. The two tramps for larceny of roasting ears were sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail for four months.

Messrs. J. M. Rose, E. J. Lilly, A. A. McKethan, of Fayetteville, and L. J. Haughton and Cyrus P. Mendenhall, directors of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R., made a visit to our growing city last Friday and were received, entertained and shown round by Colonel Alspaugh, Judge Wilson and Mr. G. W. Hindshaw. It is needless to say that he was well pleased, for we have yet to see the visitor that was not. We are anxious to have the railroad pass through our city and our citizens have voted $20,000 to the building of the road, provided it comes by us. Failing in this, the W. & S. & Mooresville road will be completed to this place at once and extended to Danville soon after.

BEAUFORT.

WASHINGTON, August 16.—As a letter from the county of Beaufort would prove quite a novelty in your columns, I will endeavor to enlighten your readers on a portion of the doings of its people.

We happen to be stowed away in a section comparatively unknown to the up country Tar Heels, acknowledged by every one to be the most delightful spot between Virginia and South Carolina.

It has enchanted all strangers, from its noted discoverer to the modern traveler, and no one ever left who did not sincerely desire to return, if only to die among the memorials of the past.

We have scarcely any business intercourse with the west, and it is much easier to reach Norfolk or New York than Raleigh. The Pamlico river furnishes abundant means of transportation, and the advantage of a railroad connection with your section seems never to have entered in any practical form the heads of our people. Two years ago when the first whistle of the Jamesville & Washington R. R. sounded at our threshold, it started many persons from a dream, who had scarcely ever heard of its existence. Some persons entertained high hopes of its performances, but they have been in some degree blasted.

We do not agree with a grumbling citizen who said, "It commenced at nowhere and ended at the same place," but know it has been of considerable benefit. Under wise management, it will open up in time a fine competing line.

Inferior court has been in session this week, with Hon. J. S. Stepherd as presiding justice. The criminal cases were attended to with such dispatch and accurateness as to terrify all offenders, and we know there is not a better Inferior court in the State. Some good county men asserted that, if this district should need in the future the proper man for Superior court Judge, Mr. Shephert would wear the judicial ermine with honor. If affairs reach this juncture, Beaufort county's response will reverberate through the entire district.

The matter of the Washington toll bridge has occupied intensely the minds of our people for some time. A detailed history of the case would occupy too much space, but as it is of more than local interest, I will give a few particulars. Last fall the commissioners of the county established a free ferry across the river near the bridge, for which the bridge company, under the statute, brought an action against them for penalties. The action, on appeal to the supreme court, was dismissed. Under certain representations, we know not what, a restrainiug order against the ferry was granted by Judge Eure, and argued at Gatesville on the 29th ultimo, as a result of which it was not continued. So the ferry is in its glory to-day (Saturday). At the last meeting of the board an offer of $4,000 for the bridge was made to the owner, which has not yet been accepted, and so the matter stands now.

Of course you want to know something about crops. We can talk on that line. Hyde, the granary of the State, will make an abundant corn crop. A gentleman just from the lower section of this county reports splendid crops, one and two bales of cotton to the acre and corn in proportion. More anon.

STOKES.

The following are the officers of the Inferior Court of Stokes, elected: at its re-organization at August term Justices—Joel F. Hill, chairman, re-elected; John L. Smith, re-elected; C. M. Lasley. Solicitor, Walter W. King, Esq., re-elected. The duties of the clerk are left with our efficient superior court clerk, James Pierson, Jr., as it has been for the last two years.

GUILFORD.

GREENSBORO, August 18.—Weather pleasant after very a fine rain yesterday, which is about sufficient to insure a fine crop of corn for old Guilford, and also sweet potatoes. Our trade in dried fruit is now quite brisk and prices good, the crop being short.

Superior Court begins the first Monday in September, to hold two weeks.

Dr. J. H. Smith (and boys) have gone a fishing, way up about Danbury and Mt. Airy, hence his pulpit was not occupied yesterday, and for once, last night (Sunday) there were no services in any of the churches—pastors all absent, Dr. Jones filling the Methodist Episcopal pulpit at 11 a. m.

An important railroad meeting was held here last week by those interested in the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad, and resulted in a decision to put fifty hands on the Mount Airy end, at once, working this way.

The exercises of Greensboro Female College begins on the 20th, with fair prospects.

The M. P. camp meeting at Moriah, four miles from town, was not well attended yesterday, owing to dampness.

A party of twelve young people from Bethel church, headed by Rev. J. C. Alexander, passed through on their way to a visit to the Pilot Mountains, this evening, by private conveyance.

The Grand Lodge delegates of Good Templars returned on a special train Friday at 7 a. m., some remaining over here till to-day. They report a very pleasant session among the people of Winston.

WAKE.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, August 18.—Every one would be surprised to see how full of people our village is. Visitors come and go in large numbers every day. The interest in the partly finished building of the college, and other buildings in progress as private residences, impresses one with the feeling that everything is stirring. The streets are filled with teams and workmen, going and coming. But what absorbs attention is the inauguration of Rev. T. H. Pritchard, D. D. on September 3d, and we know that it will be a second commencement, as the following letters from visiting girls to resident ones at home will show:

"My Dear ——

I am coming on the third as sure as the stars do shine. Get me a plenty of of good looking beaux. I don't want to come all the way from Charlotte and not have plenty of courting to pay me.

Yours affectionately,

"Dearest ——

I am fated to be with you on that day. Make the boys think I have no experience. You know my forte,

Fondly,

Ah! with Professor Mills to tell the boys how to "do the courtin" be sure they will not be disappointed. Let them come!

LIVER PILLS

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side, sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive; sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Repairing Promptly and Carefully Done.

Talbott's Patent Spark Arrester.

THE INVENTION OF THE AGE.

Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester is really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrester is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and insurance companies. Its prominent features are:

It does not destroy the draft.

It does not interfere with cleaning the tubes.

It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning.

It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left open and allow sparks to escape.)

It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a filthy condition.

It is simple and durable, and can be relied upon.

It can be attached to any boiler.

No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will insure gins and barns where the Talbott Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as harged for water or horse-power.

Lithia Water.

THE BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS.

MECKLENBURG COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

THE GREAT TONIC AND ALTERATIVE WATERS OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT.

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRING NO. 3.

The most Valuable and Powerful Tonic Waters of Virginia, and, with one exception, the most Valuable Tonic Water of the United States.

ANALYSIS of this Spring, made by Prof. Wm. P. Tonry, of the Maryland Institute, Baltimore, March 17, 1877: Results expressed in grains per imperial gallon, shows it to contain 3,774 grains of the Carbonate of Iron, which is recognized by all medical men as incomparably the most potent and valuable form in which iron can be used as a Tonic. A comparison of this analysis with that of other chalybeate waters of the American Continent shows that the Buffalo Lithia Spring No. 3 contains a larger percentage of CARBONATE OF IRON than any other Mineral Water in the United States. Between this larger percentage water and chalybeate waters generally there is one important difference. Chalybeate waters, as a general rule, are ASTRINGENT. The water of Spring No. 3 is APERIENT—rendered so by the Carbonate of Potash.

With this powerful BLOOD TONIC, in conjunction with the famous Buffalo Lithia Springs No. 2 (which contains a larger percentage of the Bi-carbonate of Lithia than any known Mineral Water,) one of the most powerful alterative waters of the world, and to which is attributed by many eminent medical men a peculiar power as "a Nerve Tonic," it would seem to be a self-evident proposition that these Springs offer inducements to those in search of health, found nowhere else upon the American Continent.

Lamming of the Pilgrim.

The breaking waves dashed high
On a stern and rock-bound pier,
As old man Sprague with flashing eye
And a loaded gun drew near.
Not as the conquerors came
With the trumpets' brazen blare,
But to vindicate fair fame
He fetched his Gatling there.

Lord Roscoe saw the gun
With Sprague at the business end,
And he half suspected fun;
And he cried, "What will ye, friend?"
And the irate Sprague replied,
"I have brought my weapon rust
And I'll pepper your lordly hide
If you don't get up and dust!"

An he didn't stop to talk,
Nor tarried to explain—
He had business in New York,
And he skipped on the first through train.
Aye, call it holy ground,
With its seaside damp and gloom—
He left behind what he never found,
A Presidential boom.

Rather Dry.

Charlottesville (Va.) Chronicle.

When the train stopped at the Charlottesville depot last Sunday there was a thirsty fellow aboard, who hastily stepped to the platform, looked eagerly around for a sign-board with a suggestive inscription, and, finding none, approached with a beseeching look a portly gentleman who was standing near.

"Can you tell me where I can get a drink?" said the traveller; "awfully dry."

"I don't think you can get a drink of liquor anywhere, lawfully, to-day," responded the gentleman addressed.

"Don't care a cuss whether I get it lawfully or not," said the thirsty individual, "but I must have a drink to wash the cinders down."

"Try some of those young men; perhaps one of them can give you the desired information," responded the gentleman so earnestly pressed, "I cannot."

And away hustled the determined traveler toward a crowd of youngsters further up the platform. Possibly he got a drink, but he went on his way in blissful ignorance of the fact that he had applied for information in the first instance to the Judge of the County Court of Albemarle, a temperance man of the strictest sect.

Cruel Treatment.

Charlottesville (Va.) Chronicle.

When "Cousin Annie" Maria was along this way some weeks ago, in the interests of her little paper, the Acanthus, as we had not the time to escort her around she was attended, at our request, by a gallant young gentleman to whom we introduced her, and who in turn introduced Cousin Annie and her pet to quite a number of our citizens. In the course of the canvass Z—— and his girl visited a law office on the Square, and then and there Cousin Annie did so eloquently set forth the claims and the merits of the Acanthus that the Colonel did see no way of escape. Feeling in his pockets nervously he found not the seventy-five cents necessary to be paid in hand, so, turning to the lady's escort, he remarked with great nonchalance:

"Certainly, Miss Barnes, I will subscribe with pleasure. Mr. ——, will you please pay the lady seventy-five cents for me?"

Of course refusal was out of the question, the change was handed over to the treasury of the Acanthus, and Z —— says he intends to hold us responsible for the money unless it is soon returned by the gentleman.

No Good Preaching.

No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient, or write a good article when he feels miserable and dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters. See other column.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Infallibly Cure all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Scaly Eruptions, Itchings, and Irritations

The testimonials of permanent cures of Skin and Scalp Diseases which have been the torture of a lifetime by the Cuticura Remedies, are more wonderful than any methods or remedies known to the medical profession.

Cuticura Resolvent, a powerful Blood Purifier, is the only purifying agent which finds its way into the circulating fluid and thence through the oil and sweat glands to the surface of the skin, thus destroying the poisonous elements with which these vessels have been daily charged.

Cuticura, The Great Skin Cure, applied externally, arrests all unnatural or morbid growth which cover the surface of the diseased glands and tubes with Scaly, Itching, and Irritating Humors, speedily it removes them, leaving the pores open, healthy, and free from diseased particles of matter.

Thus internally and externally do these great remedies act in conjunction, performing cures that have astonished the most noted physicians of the day.

Salt Rheum for 30 Years

On the Head, Face, and Greater Part of the Body, Cured.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen, I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for 30 years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to an article in the Union on skin diseases, and I got a box of Cuticura. The first application was a great relief and the third took the scales all off, and I felt like a new man. I have used three 50-cent boxes and my skin is smooth and I consider myself entirely cured. Hoping that this may be seen by some one afflicted as I have been (if there is any) is my earnest wish. And I cheerfully recommend it to all persons afflicted with like diseases. Yours truly,

B. WILSON LORD.

AGAWAM, MASS., Sept. 9, 1878.

The Cuticura Soap should be used for cleansing all diseased surfaces, as most soaps are injurious to the skin.

LEPROSY.

A Modern Miracle. Astonishing Results from the use of Cuticura.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—We have a case of Leprosy in our poorhouse which is being cured by your Cuticura remedies The county had employed all of our doctors and had sent to New York for advice, but to no avail.

The patient commenced using the Cuticura and immediately began getting better. He had been confined to his bed for two and one half years. Had not had his clothes on during this time. Last week he dressed for the first time.

When he walked, there would at least one quart of scales come off of him.

This happened every day.

We think it is a wonderful cure.

We do not think he is cured, but he is in a fair way to be cured to say the least.

Yours truly,
DUNNING BROTHERS,
Druggists and Book ellers.

ALLEGAN, MICH., Feb. 11, 1879.

NOTE.—Messrs. Dunning Brothers are thoroughly reliable gentlemen, and were unknown to us prior to the receipt of this letter. We firmly believe this Cuticura will permanently cure this very severe case of Leprosy, as it has done many others.

Prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and for sale by all Druggists and Dealers. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

——See the case of Egerton vs. Logan, reported in the NEWS' Digest of Supreme Court opinions elsewhere in to-day's issue.

——There are a lotof corns in a frame at F. H. Heartt's drugstore so arranged as to form the following, "corns from many akers."

——The people in this section of the country seem to have stopped marrying. There has not been a marriage license issued for over two weeks.

——The citizens of Raleigh will be pleased to learn that the cistern on Hillsboro street is being walled up and will probably be completed in a short time.

——The Blake house, corner Hargett and Bloodworth streets, is a model of architectural beauty as well as comfort and convenience. It attracts the attention of all who pass by it.

——The wonderful curative effects of the celebrated Buffalo Lithia water has been again demonstrated in the cases of a number of North Carolina citizens who have sought health and found it at the Buffalo Lithia Springs this summer.

——Mr. T. P. Hay was the first man from Beaufort that arrived in this city yesterday. He was gotten up in a costume that excited the mirth and sympathies of the bystanders at one and the same time. He did not have time to be interviewed, though we believe he did say something about its being "fearful," "terrible," "awful," or words to that effect.

——A notice of the force employed by the manufacturers of Mile End Spool Cotton in yesterday's NEWS was intended as a news item of some importance, but the number two hundred being used by mistake instead of two thousand it did not turn out to be as much of a news item as was intended. The firm of John Clark, Jr., & Company, who manufacture this cotton in Glasgow, is the oldest in this line and precede, any other similar factory by fifty years. The thread made by this house it is claimed has a monopoly in England, Canada, and the northern and western States. Yeargan, Petty & Jones, agents, will carry a stock of 1,000 dozen spools regularly in order to supply the demand in this market.

Something Sure to Please.

Alfred Williams & Co. are agents for the "Johnson Revolving Book Case" which is an exceedingly handsome and useful ornament for the parlor or library. A Card.

In the conversation in which I am reported as using very censuring language in reference to a banker of this place, I desire to say to him and the public that I feel his character to be above reproach and that were it my wish, which I disclaim, I could not damage him in the estimation of the community—nor would I lay one feather's weight of burden upon his heads. I sincerely regret that I made any such impression, for I do hold the very highest regard for the christian virtues of that eminent divine.

I spoke of the business failure of the firm of which the gentleman was a member, though I do not believe nor did I desire to convey the impression that he had any other than the purest motives in the conduct of his business.

Respectfully,
D. W. C. BENBOW.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Aug. 16, 1879.

A New Method of Cotton Planting.

The Aberdeen (Miss.,) Examiner says: Several times during the last four years we have taken occasion to call attention to the new process of cotton planting so successfully pursued by Mr. J. J. Crump, of this county. The result of this process was 1,300 pounds of ginned cotton to the acre in 1877, 1,000 pounds in 1878, and this season the prospects are good for the heaviest yield he has had. For the benefit of our readers and exchanges we will again give Mr. Crump's formula.

He prepares his land in December by digging holes three feet from each other, each eighteen inches square and eighteen inches deep; these holes he fills with manure to within four inches of the top, and the remainder of the way with the top soil. At the usual season he plants with a view to having three stalks to the hill, and piles the clay from the bottoms of the pits as deep over their tops as the supply will admit of, with a view to keeping down the grass, and then cultivates with hand and hoe, never allowing a plow to be used. The preparation is made in December in order to subdue the fiery qualities of the fertilizer, and the holes when prepared will make at least three crops without changing their contents—the second crop generally being the best and the first and last about the same. This plan has gotten beyond the sphere of experiment, and there is no longer necessity for a man to scrape over a dozen acres when he can obtain more cotton and better cotton by cultivating two or three by Mr. Crump's process.

Boston's Mysterious Murder.

Boston has a mysterious murder which is partly paralleled by the Hull case and more nearly by the murder of Mr. Nathan, in New York, some years ago. There are variations in detail, however, which characterized the violent death of Mr. Frye. An elderly and prosperous merchant, whose family were spending the summer in the country, was found dead in the cellar of his house, his body cut with a number of wounds inflicted with a small knife and a bullet wound which had penetrated both heart and liver and caused almost instant death. Not far from the body a revolver was discovered with one chamber empty and already cocked for a second shot. The first theory was that of suicide. This, however, was quickly abandoned. A safe in the dining room of the murdered man's house had been rifled, and silver forks and spoons and probably money had been taken from it. How much was in the safe is not known. Mr. Frye's watch and chain had also disappeared, though his diamond studs had not been stolen. A marble slab belonging to the safe had been taken off and laid upon the dining room table and the interior compartments of the safe had been opened with a pocket-knife.

A Youthful Rogue.

New Berne Nut Shell, 18th.

A colored boy named Brimmage, about thirteen years of age, was taken up Friday for having broken into the house of a colored woman and stolen some of her property, and was placed in one of the Police Stations, for safe keeping until his trial. While alone, the young rogue, by some means wrenched from their sockets two of the iron gratings in the narrow window of the cell, and effected his escape through the aperture thus made—a hole hardly six inches square. He has not been recaptured, but when he is, we would suggest, for the protection of our citizens in future, that he be sent to the penitentiary for life, for if his audacity and cunning increases with his age he will be a dangerous man. He and also one if not more of his brothers have figured in the Mayor's court more than once on a similar charge to that for which he was apprehended Friday.

The Death Rate of

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant organ. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proved itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known. d&wtf.

BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879. —The following correspondence will explain itself: A. WADDILL, ESQ., LYNCHBURG, VA.—Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even temporary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully, WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.—WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WADDILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News.
